121st Mackenzie Highland Show - a tribute to those who organise and support it!

Years ago the radio station used to invite folk to come to the Mackenzie Highland Show using the words 'Come to Fairlie to the Mackenzie Highland Show, see the trees dripping with gold'. Maybe it was the golden trees as backdrop, maybe the sunshine, maybe the music of the pipes and the dancing, maybe the chatter and laughter, maybe the animals, maybe the action, maybe the colourful attire of the Autumn day – maybe they all combined to create a great day out for all, at the 121st Mackenzie Highland Show on Monday.

This acclaimed annual event in Fairlie is the culmination of a year of hard work by the volunteers of the Mackenzie A&P Highland Show Committee. They can be justly proud of the interest and the wholesome, country atmosphere that was created, as can all those who supported the show with entries. Each entry adds interest to the event, both for those participating and those viewing.

So we thank the Mackenzie Highland Show Committee for giving us this day to remember and we once again invite the community to look to how you can contribute to the 122nd Mackenzie Highland Show next year!

End of Fairlie Bowling Club Season

The Fairlie Bowling Club closing and prize giving was held Saturday 6 April, bringing the bowling season to an end.

The green has been in excellent condition throughout the season, with members and visitors happy with the way it played. The Crackerjack Bowls held on a Tuesday night for 8 weeks was very well supported and enjoyed by all who played.

Work began on Tuesday 9th April, with the coring and spreading of soil on the green before winter sets in.

At the prize giving the President John Brook congratulated all winners of the Championships and the clubs competitions and thanked everyone for their work and support over the season.

Trophy winners were as follows:

Congratulations and well done!

The Rusty Chain Annual Cricket Match

The annual cricket match between Mt Nessing and Gladstone was held at Mt Nessing on James and Katie Simpson's property on the 24th March. The 30 over game was played in good spirit with plenty of banter in the hot sunny conditions meaning hydration was a very important factor.

James Simpson prepared an immaculate pitch with the wicket offering plenty for the bowlers testing many batsmen's ability although the classier batters were able to score freely on a fast out field. The quality of the bowling attack and commitment in the field from both teams produced a high standard of cricket.

Thanks to the umpires who were fortunate to receive plenty of assistance from both sides. Sue Kerr was marvellous, appointed as scorer Sue was unflappable and unbiased in a challenging environment.

Gladstone's best figures were:

Bowlers

Stu Cartwright 4 – 6
 George Kerr 2 – 5
 Andrew Anderson 1 - 9

Batsmen

Andrew Anderson 41 NO
 Mark Ross 38 NO
 George Kerr 35

Mt Nessing:

James Austin 2 – 16
 Callum France 2 -24
 Ryan McNab 1 - 9

Aaron McCall 61 NO
 Angus France 46
 Ryan McNab 20

Gladstone were eventually victorious after scoring 199 and then bowling Mt Nessing out for 194 in the third last over. Wicket keeper John O'Connor was named MVP for a sublime performance behind the stumps.

Mt Nessing had held 'The Rusty Chain' trophy for the last three years, but everyone agreed that Gladstone were the much deserved winners. A big thank you to hosts James and Katie for the BBQ, cricket grounds and a great day.

Mackenzie Rams - Rugby Season off to a Solid Start

Club rugby in South Canterbury is underway and the Mackenzie Rams look to have an exciting season ahead based on early results. The Rams have recorded two wins and a close loss in the first three rounds to sit fourth on the Hamersley cup table.

After some excellent pre-season performances, defeating Kurow 54 – nil and Ashburton Celtic 28 – 17, the Hamersley competition began with an away game against last year's beaten finalist Waimate. The Rams had Waimate rattled through much of the match and led 13 – nil after sixty minutes, before what is a very good Waimate side scored two late tries to just pip Mackenzie 14 – 13.

Next up was last year's champion Celtic, who travelled to Fairlie strong in the conviction that they would leave with maximum points. The Rams were happy to prove the champions of the past ten seasons wrong, repelling wave after wave of Celtic attack and recording a 28 – 24 victory. Round three saw Harlequins also make the trip to Strathconan Park keen on taking points back to town, however the hard working Rams team had other plans, overturning an early ten point deficit to power past Harlequins and secure a 28 – 20 victory.

The Rams next home match is in Round 5 (Saturday 27th April) versus Old Boys and the Mackenzie club invites all supporters to get along and watch some exciting rugby being played at Strathconan Park.

MACKENZIE OLD GIRLS NETBALL 2019

The Mackenzie Old Girls Netball team is playing in the South Canterbury Netball Premier competition on Wednesday nights in Timaru. After a number of close attempts, the team was very happy to win the final last year and bring home the trophy. This year has started with a mini tournament and then a first game win to Mackenzie over Pareora 50-20. The encouragement from our local community has been outstanding and is very much appreciated. We look forward to your continued support and thank you to our generous sponsors in 2019.

The Red Cross Rose around the Mackenzie Trooper

In 2014 the unveiling of the Mackenzie Trooper paid tribute to the 8th Regiment (SC) NZ Mounted Rifles commemorating 100 years of the departure of the troops to the Great War. Around this memorial are four roses – have you ever wondered why roses around a soldier?

In 1916 during the Great War a song was written from the point of view of a soldier who'd witnessed or experienced the care of the Red Cross nurses. It's unusual that the writer would associate tender sentimentality with the experience of a military man, when most other songs told of bravery and victory. This tribute to the work of Red Cross nurses during WW1 is titled 'The Rose of No Man's Land' and the lyrics are:

*I've seen some beautiful flowers
Grow in life's garden fair
I've spent some wonderful hours
Lost in their fragrance rare
But I have found another
Wondrous beyond compare...*

*There's a rose that grows in no-man's land
And it's wonderful to see
Though it's sprayed with tears, it will live for years
In my garden of memory*

*It's the one red rose the soldier knows
It's the work of the Master's hand
'Neath the War's great curse stands a Red Cross nurse
She's the rose of no-man's land*

Roses are used by a few Red Cross Society's as their official flower and all have been named to reflect the work of the society. The British Red Cross had a rose bred to mark the 125th anniversary in 1995 called the "Humanity Rose". Here in New Zealand Sam McGredy bred the 'Spirit of Hope' rose to commemorate the 75th anniversary of the formation of the New Zealand Red Cross in 2006

In March each year the Canterbury and West Coast based Branches of New Zealand Red Cross hold their annual Rose Day fundraiser and many of you have supported the organisation by buying these lovely roses here in Fairlie. Thank you for your contribution to the humanitarian work of this international organisation.

From very early days the Red Cross nurse has been an important part of the Red Cross humanitarian work as up until the middle of the 19th century, there were no organized and well-established army nursing systems for casualties and no safe and protected institutions to accommodate and treat those who were wounded on the battlefield.

Jennifer Murray Charitable Trust

To benefit the Church of the Good Shepherd at Lake Tekapo

Jennifer Murray (Erf). 1933-2014. Jennifer was born at Glenmore Station situated on the western shores of Lake Tekapo. She lived all her life in South Canterbury, as an adult, primary school teaching but she always considered Lake Tekapo her home. She was held in high regard by both her pupils and their parents many of whom visited her throughout her life.

Jennifer's interest in and commitment to the Lake Tekapo Church of the Good Shepherd spans many decades. Her grandfather donated the land for the church and her father with two others financed the actual building of the church. Jennifer served on the vestry, organised the guides and supervised the general maintenance of the church and its surrounds. This was a lifetime's commitment. Jennifer was very aware of the increasing maintenance demands on this little church with its huge volume of visitors.

There are three main objectives of this trust. To enhance, protect, promote, retain and upkeep the Church of the Good Shepherd at Lake Tekapo. To promote and enhance the physical and spiritual welfare of the church building itself and of its parishioners. To educate, spiritually guide and support the citizens of the Lake Tekapo/Pukaki/Mt Cook catchment area through the use of the said Church of the Good Shepherd as a meeting place.

This trust is designed within geographical boundaries for the sole benefit of the Church of the Good Shepherd and for the people residing within these boundaries. It is a charitable trust with four trustees and is registered with the I.R.D. and the Charities Commission. Under the Income Tax Act 2007 LD1 and DB4 both individuals and companies are able to claim a tax credit or deductions for any donations to this trust. If you would like to donate to this trust, it may be made into the following bank account. This would be greatly appreciated. If donating, please identify yourself to enable the trust to issue you with a receipt.

Donations for the Charitable Trust are welcome.

Fairlie Kindergarten

Children at Fairlie Kindergarten have been investigating and making sense of the natural world around them through inquiry learning about tadpoles, bugs and insects. We have 10 tadpoles at kindergarten and through this, children have generated discussion through observation, wonderings and research as they learn and discover facts about their habitat and their life cycle. Tamariki have made connecting links with home as oxygen weed has been gathered from a local creek and comparisons made between other families tadpoles! Curiosity and wonder has seen daily bug hunts undertaken, the construction of a bug house, and habitats of bugs explored.

As an Enviroschool we encourage kaitiakitanga (guardianship) and children are learning to manaaki (care for) Tane's children, the insects, by providing them a home. Children have brought bugs in from home and nurtured them into a new short term habitat. Children learn and understand that bugs and insects need to be set free.

Teachers intentionally nurture these inquiries by supporting and extending children's attempts at understanding by encouraging them to ask questions and investigate the answers using a variety of sources. Tamariki recently visited the library and sourced some books to help with this process.

Teachers model a process of inquiry based learning by encouraging tamariki to:

- observe (I see),
- think about what they see (I think)
- pose questions (I wonder).

Fairlie Primary School had a superhero muffti day recently raising $171 for our local ambulance super-heroes St John (photo above)

The house leaders for Fairlie Primary School went to a physical activity leaders (PAL) day in Timaru on Tuesday 2nd April.

We learnt about how to communicate, organise and modify games. One of the games was rippa and every few minutes we would get together and discuss how we could modify the game to make it more exciting, enjoyable, difficult and more simple.

We got put in groups and took turns playing games in rotations and at the same time we learnt skills that could help us become better leaders. We learnt so many new games for us to take back to school.

One of the games we played was called domes and dishes which was a really simple game and easy for little children to play.

By Lucy

'In growing a culture of inquiry, our focus is not on teaching children information and facts, or to get them at some eventual 'right answer'... we stay present to what's unfolding, not trying to see into the future or make plans far in advance. Curriculum anchored in inquiry grows moment by moment, one step at a time.'

St Joseph's School Fairlie

What a last week of term it was at St Joseph's! Plenty going on. We had the School Fun Triathlon, just beating the southerly change, and the students were rewarded afterwards with a well-deserved ice block. We also had Eco Ethel and Nana's from the Mackenzie Community Development Project, teaching the seniors how to make a simple pizza and some delicious fruit kebabs (pictured at right). The students were also frantically finishing off their art entries for the A & P Show this Easter.

Many thanks to our resident artist, Yvonne Shaw, for guiding the students in producing some weird and wonderful face masks for the Show. Check them out on Easter Monday.

April is a busy month with Easter - the A&P Highland Show, ANZAC Day, school holidays and the winter sports competitions underway.

Lots to talk about. We could mention how well the Auckland Blues are doing this season, or talk about smoke alarms. The reason for reminding people about smoke alarms when day light saving comes in, is because the battery only used to last about six months and day light saving was used as a way of reminding people to check the battery.

The new alarms with the Lithium battery can last up to ten years. If you have moved into a new home and it has these smoke alarms it would pay to check the date on the alarm. New homes can have the alarms hard wired and should last a lot longer. All of these alarms could do with a clean with a vacuum cleaner, they can attract dust and spiders like living in them.

Why do we need smoke alarms? Simple - if you go to sleep after that big meal, but forgot to take the pot of custard off the stove, the house fills with smoke and the smoke won't wake you! - Your smoke alarm will alert you!

A few other safety tips:

- Never leave cooking unattended and take extra care when cooking with oil or fat.
- Don't over load power points
- Have electric blankets checked
- Remember the "Heater Metre" rule don't dry things on the heater

Take care on the roads "Don't be a chook take another look!" See you all on the 25th - WE WILL REMEMBER THEM
Wayne Dixon

ROAD SAFETY FOCUS

Cellphones, Alcohol and Drugs:

It is illegal to use a hand-held cellphone while driving. You must use a hands free device if you want to chatter to your mates while driving, however we encourage our drivers to reduce distractions. Don't drink and/or use drugs then drive. Although there is an alcohol limit for driving in New Zealand, it is best to not drink and drive at all.

Overtaking:

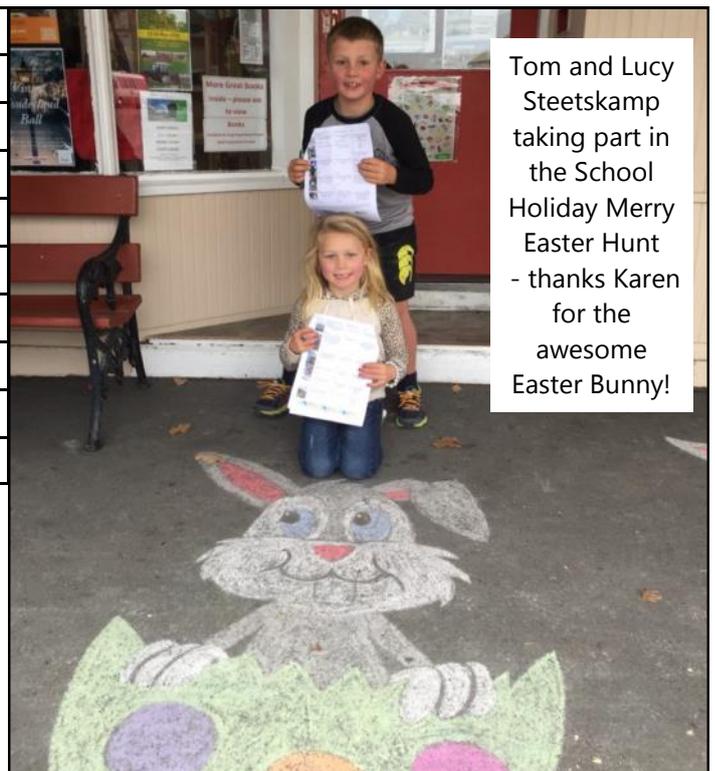

Obviously, only overtake when you can see it is safe to. Most of the roads are single lane. Some roads have passing lanes, which is your best option for overtaking. If there is a solid yellow line in the middle of your side of the road, this indicates it is too dangerous to overtake. If you start to get a line of vehicles driving behind, keep an eye out for a safe place to pull over and let them pass.

Driving Hazards:

From all the hilarious "animal on the road" photos, it is obvious that cars are not the only thing you share to road with. If you see farm animals on the road, slow down or stop to let the animals move past. You may need to move slowly behind the animals if they are walking up the road. Practice patience. A farmer might give you some instructions. Basically, don't run animals over and don't sound your horn at them in case they get startled.

ECO ETHEL

Eco Ethel says YOU can make a difference.

This is an amazing tip to reduce waste in the bathroom and have baby soft skin. It is the simple use of coconut oil. This is organic, cheap, no chemicals on you or down the drain, no microbeads, lessening the use of plastic containers ... just soft naturally beautiful skin all year round! In the colder months you will definitely need to have an extra container of hot water in the shower and sit the coconut oil in it to soften while you shower. Understanding these small steps can help change a disposable mindset, to living a more environmentally conscious life!

Recycle Tip

Waste and Easter, not two things that are normally thought of together. But, thinking about waste in what we do everyday can have a big impact on our environmental footprint. Choosing what to buy is an easy step in reducing waste.

Chocolate is great at Easter time, but check the packaging for what is minimal and recyclable - the less packaging the better, and if it is packaged then go for what is recyclable. Foil wrapping and a lot of the plastic packaging around Easter eggs cannot be recycled. Remember to check plastic for the triangle recycling symbol with the numbers 1-7, if there is no triangle or number, it goes in the red bin.

Thinking outside the chocolate box - that yummy, but not so healthy chocolate is not the only gift that will make your friends and family smile at Easter time. Try a waste free option such as a special handmade soap (Bramblewood Homestead even have Easter bunny soaps down at Heartlands Fairlie Resource Centre). Kids would love rabbit pyjamas (doubled with being a handy time to get winter pyjamas), or treat them with movie tickets to use over the long weekend. But, if chocolate is really the answer, just remember to pick less packaging and recyclable options.

2019 OTAGO GOLDFIELDS HERITAGE TRUST CAVALCADE

Since 1991 the Otago Goldfields Heritage Trust has been organising the annual cavalcade where a variety of trails retrace old gold-miner's trails across the mountains of Central Otago and surrounds for 4-7 days – roughing it before converging on a small rural town for the host Town Parade, markets, entertainment, dinner and Hoe Down. This year the host town was Hawea.

The event usually attracts 500 plus participants and thousands of spectators and helpers each year, around the last week of February. This event is a major fundraiser for small community groups who provide catering and services for those participating in the cavalcade.

Those gathering for the various trails are provided with a registration pack when they check in. This usually consists of a name tag (cattle tag!) and other goodies i.e. chap stick, jerky and a badge for your shirt or hat marking the year of that cavalcade. This year was the 27th year the cavalcade has run and there are participants who have ridden, walked or biked every year since its inception.

Each year the trails all begin in different places but all join up at the end of the week to participate in the parade through the host town. This year there were 2 mountain bike trails, 3 foot, walking/tramping, heavy wagons, light wagons and 4 riding trails – riders may also ride along with the wagon trails.

It's a great event to participate in and you end up making many life long friends. If you are interested in this event, check out Otago Goldfields Heritage Trust Cavalcade online goldfieldstrust.org.nz, or check out their cavalcade facebook page.

Look out – thieves about!

We, in the Fairlie area are well used to trusting one another so when items are stolen from homes and farms, we are shocked as well as disappointed that our little world is messed with! Apart from doing all you can to look after your own possessions, it is of value to have a good relationship with neighbours who can look out for you too! Foster good relationships and always carry a pen and paper in your car! You just never know what you might see and want to record!

On Saturday 13th April, farmers Peter Johnson and Keith Stanley hosted the South Canterbury Hunt Club for their annual hunt. There was a great turn out and horses and hounds had a wonderful run. With the rain the day before, it made the ground conditions excellent and the beautiful sunny day was just perfect.

Mackenzie Community Library News

We are excited to announce that our new FREE e-book and e-audio platform is up and running at <http://southisland.overdrive.com>. There are over 10,000 items to choose from, including read-along e-audio for kids. You will need your library card number and library card PIN. Please ask us to set this up for you – it is quick and easy. There are mobile apps you can download (Libby or OverDrive) so that you can read or listen to and manage your e-book/e-audio loans on any device (other than a Kindle).

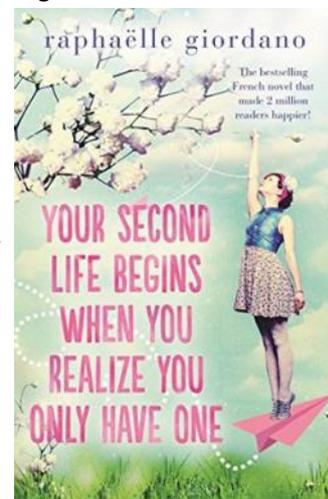

The school holidays have been busy with children coming in to get their Merry Easter Hunt clue sheets signed off and customers borrowing books now that daylight hours are drawing in.

Did you know that community groups are welcome to use the library's 65" display unit within the library? It can be used to play back video footage of sports' training or to watch YouTube tutorial videos, etc. Please get in touch if you would like to hold a meeting at the library and make use of the display screen.

We have had a lot of adults' and kids' books kindly donated recently that were duplicates or weren't suitable to add to our collections. They are available in the library foyer storeroom as book swaps or to make a donation – come and have a browse through and you don't have to worry about returning them on time!

Fairlie Friendly Club

On Wednesday afternoon on 10th April, 17 members travelled in cars to Lake Tekapo. Afternoon tea was provided by Reflections Café and the muffins and scones were enjoyed by all.

Birthday wishes were extended to Eunice Tawhiao and Daphne Calder who were not present but will receive shoulder sprays and cards. Raffle prizes were won by Bruce Bennetts, Jean Jones and Leonie Dwyer.

The members then enjoyed a 'tiki tour' of Tekapo to see all the new subdivisions and new houses which have been built in recent years. All in all it was a very enjoyable afternoon.

New members are welcome to join our Friendly Club meetings which are held on the second Wednesday of each month.

The Science Beneath Our Feet

The AF8 (Alpine Fault magnitude 8) roadshow arrived in the Mackenzie District last Friday 12 April. Classes from Twizel Area School and Mackenzie College totalling 120 students received an informative lesson from Alice the AF8 communicator relating to how the Alpine Fault was formed, the likely return period (how often we can expect an earthquake) and some of the likely impacts from the earthquake event.

That evening an audience of 140 listened to leading Alpine Fault scientists Dr Caroline Orchiston, Professor Brendon Bradley and Dr Simon Cox, explaining the science and the potential impacts of this earthquake on the South Island. On Saturday the same presentation was given to a smaller but just as interested audience at Aoraki/ Mt Cook.

The main points to come out of this presentation were as follows:

- ⇒ Research on the Alpine Fault has given us one of the longest earthquake records in the world, with evidence of 27 earthquakes over the last 8,000 years at the southern end of the fault. With intervals spanning 140 to 500 years this means an average return period of 300 years and an expected magnitude 8.
- ⇒ Evidence from along the Alpine Fault tells us the last earthquake was in 1717. We can't predict when the next earthquake will be, but now is a good time to start preparing for it.
- ⇒ There will be shaking felt throughout the South Island and into the lower North Island, with possible damage being sustained to infrastructure across the island.
- ⇒ There will be a number of secondary hazards after the initial earthquake, the main ones being landslides in our steeper terrain and continued aftershocks for an extended period.
- ⇒ Businesses, communities, families and individuals need to plan for this event as you would for any large scale natural disaster. Anything we do now will make our lives more comfortable afterwards.

If you are interested in watching and listening to the Twizel presentation it was recorded and if you follow this link <https://www.facebook.com/AlpineFault8/videos/2247063788868493/?t=0> you will be able to watch the whole presentation including questions from the audience at the end.

The information that has been created by this group over the last three years has led into work from most national organisations, emergency services and civil defence and emergency management groups around planning on how we can manage this significant response.

Did you know?

A raft of significant changes for employers and employees came into effect on April 1st.

The adult minimum wage increased from $16.50 to $17.70 per hour, and the starting-out and training wage has gone up from $13.20 to $14.16 per hour.

April 1st also saw the introduction of rights for employees under the Domestic Violence Victims' Protection Act. Employees affected by domestic violence are now entitled to up to 10 days paid domestic violence leave per year as well as short term (up to two months') flexible working allowances due to a domestic violence situation. The new entitlements apply to anyone directly affected or anyone supporting a child who has suffered from domestic violence.

There are a number of things employers should do to prepare for these new leave entitlements. They should include a clause in all new employment agreements advising staff of these rights and they should make available some information to help staff get help where and when they need it.

The new laws also state that victims of domestic violence have the right to 'not be treated adversely in the workplace because you might have experienced domestic violence'. As an employer you have a duty of good faith towards your employees and this must be managed accordingly. Given the hugely sensitive nature of domestic violence, your attitude should essentially be one of 'how can I help?'. An information document on Rights for Employees Affected by Domestic Violence outlines the new entitlements.

Changes were also made to KiwiSaver from April 1st. Two additional contribution rates of 6% and 10% have been added on top of the current contribution rate options of 3%, 4% and 8% of an employee's pay. This change is designed to offer KiwiSaver contributors more flexibility.

In addition, KiwiSaver 'contribution holidays' have been renamed 'savings suspensions' while many KiwiSaver scheme providers have renamed the 'Member Tax Credits' initiative 'Government Contributions' after a survey revealed many people didn't know about the credit and were missing out on government contributions to their KiwiSaver account as a result.

The KiwiSaver changes are outlined in full on the Kiwi Wealth website.
